

An Actual Carpet Sweeper Brush

Good, strong, cleaning suction, with the revolving fan, not hindered by belts or gears—that's first in simple construction in a good Vac. But—you've got to get the threads, or your Vac isn't doing all the work a good Vac can.

Ever know of a surer thread picker than a good carpet sweeper? with less injury to the rug? Good suction with one of these effective, big carpet sweeper brushes revolving in the middle of it right down to simple first principles in Vacs—that's the Sweeper Vac. May we put one in your home on trial?

TALK OF THE TOWN

See Abbott's line of warm coats. Don't fail to hear Byron N. Clark at the Presbyterian church to-morrow evening at 7.—adv.

R. C. Flanders and Frank Haynes of Orange were business visitors in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Hinton of St. Albans is visiting in the home of her parents on Orange street.

Victor Bixby of East Barre is employed as an assistant in the office of the Granite Manufacturers' association.

Walter D. Munroe, Co. C, 5th pioneer infantry, Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., was promoted to sergeant the first of September.

Mrs. Ellen Young, who has been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Young of the Montpelier road, returned to-day to her home in Wakefield, Mass.

Travelers are using the North Seminary street detour while the new bridge on North Main street is being erected. Work is proceeding expeditiously, and it is expected that traffic on one side of the structure may be resumed within a week.

Mrs. John Irons of Williamstown passed through the city to-day, while on her way to Montreal, P. Q., for a visit. At Essex Junction she was joined by her husband, Rev. Mr. Irons, who has been attending the Congregationalist convention in Middlebury.

Four Spaulding graduates in the class of 1918 left the city this morning for Middlebury, where they are to enroll in Middlebury college. In the party were Miss Katherine Rogers, Miss Marion Willey, Miss Marion Tilden and Miss Madeline McDonald. They were accompanied by Miss Madeline Rogers, who is to resume her studies at Middlebury.

Word has been received of the marriage in New Haven, Conn., on Wednesday, Sept. 11, of Mrs. Stella E. Laviolette, formerly of this city, and Edward Shallow of New Haven. The marriage was performed by Rev. Fr. Haverly of St. Mary cathedral. Mr. Shallow is constructing engineer for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

The advance guard of Goddard's teaching staff of devotional in the city to-day, and sessions at the seminary were to be resumed Tuesday morning, although much of the time Monday will be given over to assignments and enrollments. A large registration of new students is indicated and it is probable that the dormitory accommodations will be so taxed as to make imperative the transfer of a few students to private houses near the seminary grounds.

The work of tabulating and copying the names of the 1472 Barre men who registered Thursday has been completed and a copy of the list has been posted on the bulletin board in the corridor at city hall. The mail brought a few additions to the figures turned in by the local registrars Thursday evening. Differing from the list posted at city hall a year ago, the registrars' names are not divided into wards, but have been arranged alphabetically.

As I am going to reside in New Haven, I will sell out my millinery business in Barre, as I shall not reopen the store this fall. Have a splendid lot of velvets in all colors in the web, which I will sell at cost, also ribbons, flowers and many other things too numerous to mention, fixtures, linoleum, etc. Will be in Barre and at the store, 94 North Main street, Sept. 14, 15, 16. Will be pleased to hear from anyone interested in millinery, as I can make it worth their while. Call or leave name and address with Barre Savings Bank & Trust Co. Mrs. Edward Shallow, (formerly Stella E. Laviolette).

On next Wednesday night, the Barre City band will present their big musical novelty, the Yama Yama minstreis. In every town where this show has been seen, the verdict has been the same: the best local act yet shown. The big joy evening will commence with a grand free street parade by old General Hilarity and his army of gloom-chasers. This will be followed by a trip through Yama Yama land, the land where mirth and music reign supreme, and pretty girls are a drug on the market. If you like a good snappy show with beautiful stage settings and dazzling costumes, secure your seats. You will not be disappointed.—adv.

One of the teachers who took up her duties in the Barre schools this week probably is the only one of the seventy and more members of the city's teaching staff who can claim the distinction of having passed the summer without a single day's vacation. She is Miss A. Hazel Billings, a second grade teacher at the North Barre school. This is not Miss Billings' first year in the city schools, as she came here soon after completing a course in the state normal school at Randolph a few years since. Her home is in Perkinsville, a village in the town of Weatherfield, and from the time school closed in June until she started back to Barre she worked in the hayfield, in the garden and at housework, much of the time from 6 a. m. until dark.

An old-timer on the Clapp farm, so called, on east hill, was shipped to Brighton yesterday along with a heavy consignment of cattle purchased in towns about by E. F. Davis of Trow hill. The giant bull which L. Camire, who occupies the Clapp place, has used about the farm for several years, is to know the old farm no more. In its youth the bovine was trained to follow the plow and as it progressed in its schooling the farmer taught it to step lively when hitched in front of a wagon with a horse. Mr. Camire's trained bull was a familiar sight in the streets of Barre, for it used to carry all the heavy loads from the farm to market. "Mike," as the bull was known, responded quickly to sympathetic coaching and throughout its long tenancy of the harness it retained a disposition best described as sweet-tempered, and was especially friendly with children about the farm. "Mike" tipped the beam at 1450 just before boarding the car.

Outfitting the College Miss

Her return to books and studies will be no less eventful than was her homecoming; for where is the miss who doesn't take keen delight in planning her wardrobe? Nothing must be left undone; every requisite must be procured to make complete her college outfit.

We are prepared, with extensive assortments of autumn apparel and accessories, to meet the requirements of every collegian.

Coats that Interpret Youthful Tastes

The simply cut models are best suited to youthful models, although the more elaborate styles are also featured in this showing of Coats. Blues, Greens, Browns, Burgundy and various other tones are favored in such goods as Broadcloths, Velours, Bolivias and Silvertones.

Such as these we are featuring in an unusually large line of the season's best values. Everyone realizes that the prices of garments are advanced, but you will be surprised to find so good a value at the price asked as we can give you. It is not so much the price as it is the QUALITY that interests all. If the QUALITY is in the garment, you are sure to get good returns for money invested.

We are showing a very large line of Silk, Velour and Plush Coats. These are to be very popular this winter. These are an unusually dressy garment and almost as warm as a fur garment. If interested, you should make your selection early.

Dresses Disclose Novel Trimmings

Here and there about these new Dresses will be found a touch of fringe trimming and braids that enhances greatly the beauty of the garments. The collarless neck line is finding popularity among the younger set, and Serge, Satin, Taffeta and Jerseys are preferred fabrics among young people.

Wanted: Kids for Lids

We now have a large line of Lids to suit the taste and fit the head of every kid in Barre. This is a line of Hats that is recognized as the leading line of Hats for Kids. Here you will find a large line of Hats to fit children from two to fourteen years, in a range of prices from $1.00 to $4.00 each. You should get acquainted with this line of Lids for Kids.

Ladies' Tailored Millinery

We are just opening up our full line of Fall and Winter Millinery. Here you will find a showing of Hats especially designed for the misses of college age.

Headware for all occasions is represented—Street or Dress Millinery—Tailored Hats for sports or riding—and the ever-present Tams for general utility.
